

ZAMBONI 650

Introducing the next generation of ice resurfacing machines. The Zamboni 600 Series was designed to redefine the standard.

The Model 650 is the culmination of our decades of experience and feedback from the industry. Its improved efficiencies and ease of maintenance give arena operators a true competitive edge.

A bold redesign of the familiar shape of the 500 Series did not leave behind the proven performance and exceptional results the industry expects of our products.

AC motors mean less maintenance. Improved capacities and efficiencies mean more time doing what the machine was designed to do: leave behind a world class sheet of ice which distances us from the competition.

Some Things Never Change

Efficiency | Reliability | Performance

...and everything else you would expect from Zamboni. Those things will never change. The Model 650 retains the best features of the 500 Series machines, while introducing dramatic enhancements inside and out.

Engineered to challenge expectations, its sleek fiberglass body is well-suited for the tough environment it will call home. The intelligent design of its chassis allows ease of access and strategic placement of interior components. Innovative subsystems offer efficiencies while maintaining maximum operating power.

The Model 650 has exceptional snow compaction. Its automatic snow-breaker is a standard feature. The ergonomics of the operator area have been reimagined with a focus on the safety and comfort of the driver.

Configured to accommodate high capacity battery options, the Model 650 affords additional resurfacing for your arena's busy schedule.

Nothing else is even close.

Next-generation electronic motors and controls combined with a proven and powerful battery system are capable of the endurance demanded by the industry's toughest applications.

The Model 650 is the culmination of over six decades' worth of experience in the field, combined with a team of engineers driven by a global perspective. The end result: a machine worthy of a new designation to proudly introduce the 600 Series.

Facility operators have a choice. More of them choose Zamboni than any other ice resurfacer. Ask them why. It's likely you'll hear talk of the "best sheet of ice" and "ease of operation". We don't consider these to be optional. You shouldn't, either.
